

Caldecott Honor book (1999). A true picture book with minimal text and enchanting illustrations.

Before:

Introduce the book and tell the children a little bit about it. Follow that with a comment or question that is related to the story such as, Has anyone ever tried to catch a snowflake on their tongue? Encourage a discussion so the children can comment, ask questions, and express their feelings. Set the stage for listening by asking an "I wonder" statement based on the cover illustration.

• I wonder if it snows enough to cover the buildings?

During:

Encourage the children to comment on the illustrations, ask questions, and predict what will happen next in the story. Children gain confidence and a sense of achievement through being able to correctly predict how a story will end. Point out "rare words" (e.g., those words that are not commonly used in every day conversation) and help the children relate the meaning in a way that makes sense to them.

Rare Words in Snow

• swirling: to turn around and around with a twisting or spiraling movement

After:

Discuss the story. Ask questions...

- Do you think the boy was excited about the snow?
- Did the grandfather think it would snow very much?
- Did the man with the hat think that one snowflake would turn into more?
- What did the lady with the umbrella say about the snow?
- Do you ever watch the weather on TV?
- Were the nursery rhyme characters from the Mother Goose Books store excited about the snow? How can you tell?

Make a Hat Chart

Prepare a hat chart by listing all the types and colors of hats worn by the characters in Snow. You can also add the types and colors of hats worn by the children in the class www.bookitprogram.com/redzone

Visit the R.E.D. Zone for more reading-readiness, printables, read-aloud tips, resources and more!